

The Idem-Ipse Distinction Revisited

International Philosophical Colloquium

June 8, 2018

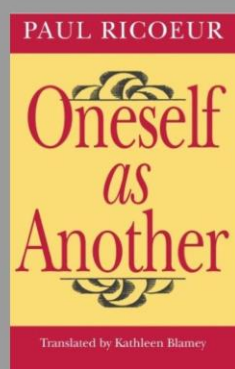

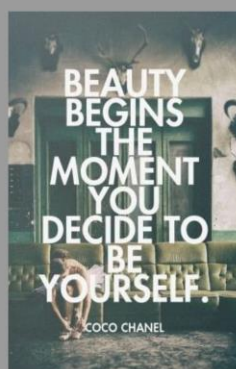

Faculty of Arts, Charles University

Nám. J. Palacha 2, Prague 1

Room 225V

9:30 – 10:30 Tereza Matějčková (Charles University, Prague): The Story of One's Life as Narrated by the Other. Idem and Ipse from a Hegelian Perspective

10:45 – 11:45 Christian Sternad (KU Leuven): „Who have I become?” A Phenomenological Account of Aging

12:00 – 13:00 Petr Prášek (Charles University, Prague), Phenomenon as an Event of Appearing and the Problem of Personal Identity

Lunch break

15:00 - 16:00 Ondřej Švec (Charles University, Prague): Self-identity Comes at a Price: Limits and Pitfalls of Narrative Identity from Foucauldian and Butlerian Perspectives

16:15 - 17:15 Jakub Čapek (Charles University, Prague): “This is not who we are”. Idem and Ipse in the Phenomenology of the Body

17:15 - 18:00 Sophie Loidolt (Universität Darmstadt): Concluding Observations

This colloquium makes part of the research project funded by the Czech Science Foundation (GAČR) “Personal Identity at the Crossroads: Phenomenological, Genealogical, and Hegelian Perspectives” GAČR 18-16622S