

2nd Central European Graduate Conference in Ancient Philosophy

Venue: Charles University in Prague, Faculty of Arts, room 104, Nám. Jana Palacha 2
Organizers: Ondřej Krása (Pardubice), Robert Roreitner (Prague), Máté Veres (Budapest)

Friday, November 1

09:15 – 09:30

Welcome

09:30 – 11:00

Dániel Attila Kovács (Budapest): Soul, body, and self in Plotinus; Respondent: Samuel Zajíček (Prague)

11:30 – 13:00

Anders Sydskjør (Bern): What were we talking about? Investigation and subject matter in the Laches; Respondent: Chad Jorgenson (Fribourg)

Lunch break

14:30 – 16:00

Stephen Oppong Peprah (Hradec Králové): The principle of optimum functionality in Plato's political theory in the Republic; Respondent: Jakub Jirsa (Prague)

16:30 – 18:00

Stefan Röttig (Würzburg): Becoming and being good. Seneca's two conceptions of ars; Respondent: István Bodnár (Budapest)

18:30 – 20:00 Keynote

Katerina Ierodiakonou (Athens / Geneva): Theophrastus on colour changing

20:15 Conference dinner

Saturday, November 2

09:30 – 11:00

Fabian Ruge (Munich): The revelation requirement for stoic proofs; Respondent: Antonio Ferro (Nürnberg)

11:30 – 13:00

Alvise Lagnerini (Geneva): Induction in Alexander of Aphrodisias; Respondent: Matyáš Havrda (Prague)

Lunch break

14:30 – 16:00

Dafni Argyri (Geneva): Memory in Alexander of Aphrodisias; Respondent: Ricardo Julião (Berlin)

16:30 – 18:00

Thomas Seissl (Vienna): How to make time for soul? Alexander of Aphrodisias and Simplicius on an Aristotelian paradox in Physics IV.14; Respondent: Ondřej Černý (Oxford)